Spirit of The Day Softens Hearts Of All Nations And Creeds And All Realize Blessings

POEM FROM COLORED MAN

"THANKSGIVING"

By John W. Nipson Jr.,
For all thy loving kindness,
We render thanks to Thee;
Thous doth vouchsafe to feed us—
Thou, God of land and sea.

We thank Thee, yea, we thank Thee,
For each succeeding feast;
For days o'erfilled with gladness,
And for the earth's increase.

Through earth's o'erflowing fullness
Thou showeth us Thy grace;
In fainting hearts give birth to
Fond hope to see Thy face.

On each succeeding morning
We praise Thee thankfully;
And hope to be rejoicing,
Lord, evermore with Thee.

Contributed by distinguished Britishers and Frenchmen in response to the United Press query: "What has the world (or Great Britain or America) to be thankful for at this time?"

The Rt. Hon. Walter H. Long, M. P.
Sec. of State for the Colonies.

"Great Britain and England have to be thankful at this time for the union of the great English-speaking races in the world."

Arthur Henderson, M. P.,
Labor Leader, former member War Cabinet.

"I readily accept your invitation to associate with the American Thanksgiving Day, because since August, 1914, the free democracies of the world have been subjected to their greateest trial; and it is cause for satisfaction that they have stood the test.

The Rt. Rev. A. F. Winnington Ingram, D. D., LLD.,
Bishop of London.

"I have never personally been thankful for anything so much as the entrance of the United States into the war.

"It seemed unthinkable that we should be fighting for the freedom of the world, and not have our brothers by blood fighting at our side. But now we have, and it is a great cause of thanksgiving, that we are now bound to one another in a bond of common self-sacrifice which nothing can ever break.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

"The fact that every branch of the Englishspeaking peoples is now shedding its blood upon a common battlefield with a common end in view is so great an event that it will repay us for all present privation and anxiety.

"If America and the Briitsh Empire had been closer in their councils before the war this situation would never have arisen. If they remain close, it will never arise again."

Arnold Bennett.

"Both America and Great Britain have to be thankful that the idea of democracy is making progress throughout the world. Democracy means disarmament. The instrument of disarmament will be a League of Nations; and we have also to be thankful that in both countries there are powerful men who understand the supreme importance of a League of Nations."

Jean Finot
French Author—Editor La Revue

"One consequence of this war is a new discovery of the United States. The nation, once represented by its detractors as vowed to the cult of the Golden Calf, stands today revealed before God and man as the most meritorious of nations. Behind the ingenious money makers we have detected millions of noble souls led by an admirabl chief, who is, indeed, the just man of the Bible I refer to President Wilson.

Viscount Bryce

"America and Britain have to be thankful that they have both obeyed the voice of Duty which called to come forward in the cause of all mankind to defend the principles of right, the sacredness of international engagements, the dictates of humanity which forbibd cruelty and protect even in time of war innocent non-combatants.

Emile Boutroux.
Celebrabted writer, member French Academy.

WHAT BECOMES OF GOBBLERS ABOUT THIS TIME

Pershing And Sibert Give Real Cause For Thanksgiving Spirit

Gen. Seibert In Statemeut To United Press Assures Us Of Winning The War---Hands Down

American Field Headqaurters, France, Nov. 28.—Not a single American soldier has been lost to date in the transporting of the American army to France.

In a statement written for the United Press as a Thanksgiving message to the American people today Major General Wm. L. Sibert declared that this should be one of the main causes why the American people should return thanks tomorrow.

General Pershing also sends a message "back home" to the American people. The two messages follow:

By Gen. John J. Pershing

First, We may be thankful for the spirit which the great cause has aroused in our nation. Second, That our army in France increases its Third, For the energy and unity of purpose from home which sustains us here and which will send us men and the material to enable us to deliver blows the result of which will cheer us and give us greater cause for thanksgiving again another Thanksgiving day comes around."

By Major Wm. L. Sibert

This little pilgrimage contingent of mine has many things to be thankful for. We are progressing well along the road of training. We are well and our men have had a minimum of illness, but most of all we are thankful for this, that during the great task of transporting our army to France we have not lost a single man—not one casualty. It is very encouraging because we know and our people back home will know that when the full force of the United States army can be transported over here without loss and get into the fight then the allies will win this war—hands down."

MADE SECOND LIEUTENANT

Thomas R. McCracken, son of Postmaster B. W. McCracken, of Mahaffey, now a Second Lieutenant's commission at the Fort Niagara officers training camp just closed.

"It has beben said 'What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world, and loseth his own soul?'

"Evil disposed observers, especially on the other side of the Rhine, thought this saying could be applied to the United States. Did the citizens of the Union, all powerful in material things, still preserve the High idealism of the Pilerim fathers and of the heroes of the War of Indepen-dence?

Defense Scoring In Mrs. DeSaulles Case

Close Friend Testifies She Wanted Him to Accompany Her Night of Murder

By Hugh Baillie

Bianca De Saulles was like a woman walking in her sleep just after she shot her husband John L. De Saulles, Dr. Sherman Wright declared today.

Testimony tending to prove that Mrs. De Saulles did not go to The Box for the purpose of killing her divorced husband was introduced.

Dr. Stewart Iglehart close friend of the accused woman declared she telephoned him to accompany her to The Box to get the boy. Iglehart refused owing to the delicacy of the matter.

Amalia Errazuriz, sister of Mrs. De Saulles declared she remembered a fall Mrs. De Saulles had when a child in Chile. "I was chasing her when she fell. She was in bed delirious for six weeks. She complained of pains in her head, and she was unable to keep up with the other children at play."

Mrs Errazuria also declared that De Saulles shortly after he married Bianca demanded that his mother in law give him a huge estate in Chile and give him full charge of the Errazuria family affairs. She also heard Jack tell his mother that De Saulles had taken him places where drink was sold. Jack acted naughty and said that he was told to act that way in the presence of his mother. Susanne Fontean the French maid who accompanied Mrs. De Saulles to The Box the night of the shooting was the next one called. Miss Monteau said that Mrs. De Saulles fired three times at De Saulles while he was looking at her.

TURKEY FOR ALL OUR SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

Knife And Fork Drill All That Will Be Required In Camps Of France Tomorrow

TONS OF TOOTHSOME TURKEY

By J. W. Pegler
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With the American Expeditionary Army, France, Nov. 28—Thousands of Sammies wil have turkey with all the trimmings tomorow. It will be a holiday with no drill but the knife-and-fork exercise practised on 130,000 pounds of turkey, 1,162,500 pounds of sweet potatoes and 11,000 pounds of mince-meat pies.

The special chow came from home in a special refrigerator-vessel which arrived on November 1.

13,000 quarts of cranberries will be served with the dinner and bushels of oranges, bananas and nuts.

It will be a home Thanksgiving transported to France and set down upon the rough board tables of little farm-houses where the Sammies live.

The quartermaster began arranging the food three months ago. He carefully calculated th size of the force we would have here, arrived at a certain ration for each man and shot in the order to Washington. When the ship came into port a crew of stevedores laid hands on the precious crates and barrels and trundled them to cold storage where the fancy chow remained until few days ago when it became time to start shipments to the scattered camps.

The big feed will be the main item of tomorrow's festivitiese but there will be side attractions to round out the program and make it a day to remember. One unit, for instance, will stage a vaudeville show in the Y. M. C. A. hut to be followed by a slambang battle with the gloves between two muscular mule-skinners.

At Headquarters there will be a Thanksgiving entertainment by the American officers and men for the French.

In a big hall the Sammies planned to entertain the Poilus and their wives and sweethearts. There will be music, but because France has abandoned dancing during the war, the Sammies will not dance.

Robert Bruce Harris Has Had Varied Career

Pioneer Oil Man Guest of His Brother Hon. F. G. Harris

Robert Bruce Harris, of Augusta, Kansas, is the guest of Hon. Frank G. Harris at his home on West Fourth avenue, having arrived in Clearfield on Sunday last. He is three years younger than our townsman and has crowded more dramatic episodes and experiences into his 68 years than falls to the lot of the ordinary man.

Shortly after his parents moved into Clarion county in 1849 Robert Bruce Harris was born. His mother died when he was seven days old and the baby boy was taken and reared by strangers. His foster parents were named Thom and he never met or knew any relatives or that his name was Harris until his brother Frank G. hunted him up in Clarion county when he was 20 years old.

Robert Bruce drifted into the oil regions in the early days of the industry in Pennsylvania and became an expert prospector, driller and operator, following the business in one capacity or another for mone than fifty years.

He has pursued his vocation in almost every European and Eastern country where oil is found, and spent many months in Baku, Russia, on the Caspian sea. He had many thrilling experiences during this wild life with the wild men who frequented the oil fields. He drilled wells throughout the oil regions of Egypt, hundreds of miles from the coast of Africa, where water for the operation had to be carried on backs of camels. He says the toughest place he ever struck was Baku, Russia. The country there was infested with Tartars and it was part of their religion to kill and rob foreigners.

At the present time he is a prosperous operator in the oil fields of Oklahoma and Kansas. Thus far he has traveled life's pathway alone, and accounts for his state of single blessedness with the statement that he was never in one place long enough to investigate the possibilities of a female partner in his trials and tribulations.

He will return to his home in Augusta, Kansas, following his visit with his brother.

THE HOUSE OF MYSTERY LOCATED

It is now said on good authority that the "house of mystery" located up South Second street and about which there has been so much comment is being erected as a home for the Clearfield Nest of Owls. Our informant said he was told that Steward L. J. Beatty and Chairman of the House Committee Schicking was up yesterday measuring the new quarters for carpets and rugs.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

All the churches unite in this Thanksgiving service held this year in the Presbyterian church at ten o'clock sharp. The service will last one hour. Rev. Hartman will preach the sermon. According to custom the offering will go to the Clearfield Hospital. Let nothing interfere with your attendance on this servicee.

BOLSHEVIKI IS IN CONTROL OF PETROGRAD

Nearly Thousand Reported Killed In Peace Demonstrations Held In Moscow And Kieff

FINLAND MUST HAVE HELP

By Joseph Shaplen
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Stockholm, Nov. 28.—Six hundred killed at Kieff and 150 Russian army officers stationed at Moscow were killed in peace demonstration which took place in both cities recently.

The Bolsheviki have now complete control of the city, according to word reaching here from Petrograd brought by a creditable Russian citizen. The fighting at Kieff lasted for six days. It was a veritable reign of terror. American Minister Morris received this word from a traveller today. He declared that the 150 Russian officers perished in heroic defense of Moscow's biggest hotel, and that the furios Bolsheviki mob literally tore the structure to pieces.

Dr. Von Ventz, food administrator of Finland arrived today to hold a conference with the American ambassador. He will implore the ambassador to urge President Wilson to take immediate relief measures toward Finland. Von Ventz declared that unless America rendered immediate aid Finland's people would starve. Morris said that he would immediately make an urgent appeal to the American State Department.

Diplomatic officers today declared that the Bolsheviki forces turned back British and French couriers who were going to the French front with messages. The Bolsheviki refused to recognize their diplomatic credentials and ignored their demands to go to the allied embassies at Pertograd.

NOTE: Jos. Shaplen, formerly a correspondent on the staff of the New York office of the United Press, has been en route to Petrograd for several weeks. He is, like all the other United Press correspondents, an American trained newspaper man who has had much experience with the United Press in various cities in the United States.

Mrs. Wm. Shonewalder Makes Statement

Mrs. William E. Shonewalder called at The Progress office this morning and asked us to print the following statement relative to the conduct of her husbnad in reply to the charges made in the letter from the Secretary of the Committee of Public Safety, regarding Mr. Shonewalder's exemption claim, which was published last evening:

Mrs. Shonewalder says it is true she and her husband has had some of the ups and downs incident to married life and as a result of misunderstanding separated for a time, that they patched up their differences and went to housekeeping in the Newling flats August 11th, and since that time they had been getting along well; they were not evicted by their landlord but when they left the Newling building to move to their present home in the Hoffman flat on West Market street they paid the landlord in full; that during the past month her husband missed but three days work, and two of those days he stayed at home to help his parents butcher and the other day he was sick, and that he earned $64 in two weeks; that they had a neat little home at Hyde before coming to Clearfield and her husband never abused her; also that if it is necessary her husband will go into the army and do his bit.

Only the best expressions of appreciation were heard after the showing of the marvelous heart story film. Two episodes were shown last night and the remaining two episodes, a synopsis of which are given below, will be shown tonight. The admission is only twenty-five cents. Hunt up last evening's Progress, get a line on what has been shown and you will be prepared to go to the show tonight and appreciate the two remaining episodes.

Episode III.

Jean Valjean escapes from prison a second time, and learing that Fantine's child Cosette is being kept takes her away with him to Paris. He attempts to live quietly there, but Javert (promoted this time to the police of Paris,) discovers the hiding place and Jean is forced to flee. He takes refuge in the garden of a convent where he finds the old man whose life he once had saved. Fauchelevent shows his gratitude by giving Jean a place as assistant gardener.

Years after Jean is living at ease with Cosette, whom he has adopted as his daughter. Marius, a young aristocrat, living apart from his grandfather, falls in love with Cosette. When the love of the young people for each other becomes evident Marius' wealthy grandfather objects.

Episode IV.

Believing his death to be near he writes Cosette a hasty note telling her where his body may be found. Jean learning from his of the seriousness of the love affair goes to rescue Marius. He finds that Javert has been trapped by the insurgents and by a subterfuge saves his life. With the wounded Marius upon his back he then escapes through the sewers underground. Caught upon emerging from the sewer by Javert, Jean calmly gives himself up, asking only that he first be allowed to take Marius to the home of his grandfather. Javert by this time convinced of the godlike character of Valjean allows him to escape.

Cosette and Marius are finally united with the blesing of Marius' grandfather. Jean, feeling that his end is near tells Marius the secret of his life and dreaming of the good priest whose influence reformed his character and expires in the arms of his children.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

Thirty members of the Woman's Club met last evening with Mrs. Chas. Kurtz at her home on West Front street. The meeting was unusually interesting and all present felt that they had received much information on the "Paintings of the Italian School," which was the subject for the evening, under the leadership of Mrs. Anna D. Rey.

The Club considered it a rare privilege to listen to Mrs. Rey's talk as no other member of the club is so thoroly versed in art. Mrs. Rey has studied under the best art teachers in Europe and has painted a number of exceptionally fine pictures. Her efforts in making last evening's meeting so successful were greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Rey illustrated her talk with copies and prints of Italian paintings.

Mrs. H. Clark Thayer, President of the club gave a very interesting report of the Federation of Clubs at Erie at which she was a delgeate and Mrs. J. P. O'Laughlin gave a brief sketch of the war under Current Events.

A general discussion then took place on ways to raise money to help the Red Cross and various other charities. The social part of the evening was most enjoyable and all appreciated Mrs. Kurtz's kind hospitality.

Sheriff elect Anthony Gorman, of LaJose, was a business visitor to the Court House, today.

ALL TO GIVE THANKS

The nation will observe Thanksgiving Day tomorrow under conditions radically different from those attending any similar celebration in the past. With the nation at war, it is likely that the true spirit of the day will be more manifested than ever before. The minds of the people will be occupied with thoughts more serious than the enjoyments and festivities with which it has become customary to associate the holiday. A larger attendance than usual is likely to mark the services of thanksgiving in the churches throughout the land. The family reunion will be something more than a mere festal gathering, as the vacant chair at the dinner table reminds those present of the loved ones who will pass the holiday in camp or cantonment, in the trenches on European battlefield, or on some grim warship flying the Stars and Stripes.

It will be a sad holiday, however, for the boys in the service. Reports from the military camps and the naval stations in all sections of the country tell of the elaborate preparations for celebrating the day. Thousands of the soldiers and sailors in training have been given leave to return to their homes for the holiday. Those who are too far distant from home to make this trip will have an enjoyable time of it in camp or barracks, on ship or ashore. Each and every one of them is assured of a turkey dinner with all the "trimmings."

OUR LOANS TO OTHER NATIONS

The United States has loaned to other nations engaged in war with Germany something over three billion dollars, taking for the sums advanced the obligations of such nations, bearing the same interest and maturing at the same time as the Liberty Loan Bonds.

The wisdom of this policy is beyond question. By strengthening these nations and making them as powerful and as effective as possible we are greatly aiding in the shortening of the struggle, we are doing much to insure an ultimate victory: we are doing only that which it is our duty to do toward our allies in this tremendous war against an autocracy which would debase and enslave all nations and men.

The fact that if we did not advance this money much of the work which the allies are doing would have to be done with American money and American men establishes clearly the intelligence and wisdom of our policy.

There is work to be done which requires the expenditure of blood and treasure. In making these money advances to Great Britain, France, Italy, and other nations we are lending money, which will be returned to us, instead of expending sums possibly as great, possibly greater, with no hope of return. In addition, we are saving the lives of American soldiers.

No policy the American Government has pursued is wiser or more truly economical and patriotic.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney trouble and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Clearfield people.

Mrs. Mary C. [illegible], 128 [illegible] Front street, Clearfield, [illegible] have suffered off and on for a good many years with kidney trouble. When one of these attacks has come on, my back has been lame and sore and I have had dull, bearing-down pains across my kidneys and in my bladder. My kidneys have acted too frequently and I have had nervous spells. I have bought Doan's Kidney Pills at three times from Stewart's Drug Store. They have always eased the pains through my back and head, regulated the action of my kidneys and removed the nervous and dizzy spells."

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE
by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

COW'S PRIDE.

"It's perfectly delightful," said Mrs. Cow. "Yes, it is really very fine."

Mrs. Cow was talking to Mrs. Black and White Cow. To be sure they were both cows, but Mrs. Cow was always known by just her simple name, and Mrs. Black and White Cow was always called Mrs. Black and White.

Mrs. Cow was brown with a few white patches. She told someone when she was a little calf that she had never had a whole brown dress because her mother hadn't been able to afford to give her one, and she had had to patch it up with white.

All the creatures of the barnyard liked this story, and they also admired Mrs. Cow for telling it. "It's so much better," Mrs. Duck had said, "than to boast as if you could have everything under the sun. And our clothes aren't so important as our dispositions."

So now that Mrs. Cow had something special to say, Mrs. Black and White stopped chewing for a moment and looked at Mrs. Cow.

"I would love to hear it," said Mrs. Black and White. "What is so delightful and fine? It won't excite me to hear it, I trust, for I hate to become excited."

"It certainly won't excite you," said Mrs. Cow. "That is I am pretty sure it won't, for it didn't excite me. It just made me very happy and pleased. I do not like to become excited any more than you do, my dear. I enjoy chewing and taking my time over everything. I never look excited, do I?"

"No," said Mrs. Black and White. "You always look as if you were calm. But then that is the way a cow should be. We should never hurry. We are not meant to for none of our family have ever hurried. We've always enjoyed taking our time and eating and munching. Now and again we look up at people as they pass by but we look at everything calm.

"That is so," said Mrs. Cow. "But sometimes I think we have grown a bit lazy."

"Oh, don't say so," said Mrs. Black and White. "Laziness is the very joy of my life. Never to move quickly, never to eat quickly, never to grow excited—those are the joys of cow life."

"That's so," said Mrs. Cow. "I really meant that I sometimes think people do not appreciate cows enough. They are so used to seeing us move so slowly that they think we aren't worth much. They rather like the creatures who hurry and bustle even if they never get anywhere."

"It's strange that they can admire hurrying," said Mrs. Black and White, chewing slowly all the time.

"They should realize that we do all

"Now Let Me Look Up About Cows in My Book."

the work that is expected of us and we do it well," continued Mrs. Cow.

"Isn't that enough?" asked Mrs. Black and White.

"It should be," said Mrs. Cow. "And I think that if ever they would stop hurrying and have a nice long time thinking about cows they would come to the conclusion that we were very useful and that we were a great addition to the world.

"And I do think now they are beginning to appreciate us a little more. That is what I have to tell you. They are beginning to think farming is a fine thing and that cows and chickens, ducks and geese, should be studied.

"What makes me extremely happy is that I saw a friend of the farmer the other day. The farmer was talking about his fine animals and he said, pointing to me:

"'There's a fine cow over there.' And what do you suppose the friend did?"

"I can't imagine," said Mrs. Black and White. Cows haven't a great deal of imagination you know!

"He said: 'Now let me look up about cows in my book.' I saw his book. It was on farming and on the outside of the book was my picture—yes, a picture of a brown cow with white spots. Just think, a cow on a book and all about the cow family in the book—for he said so."

"It's splendid," said Mrs. Black and White. "We are appreciated after all. And I'm honored to know you, Mrs. Cow, for you've gone on a book."

"I haven't gone on it myself," said Mrs. Cow. "It's my picture. But that is enough of an honor." And Mrs. Black and White agreed.

Young Diplomat.

"Say, mamma," said little four-year-old Jack, "let's play I'm an awful looking old tramp. I'll come 'round to the back door and ask for a piece of pie and you get scared and give it to me."

IN these days of war prices, it's a necessary, yet simple, economy to make dainty fabrics wear longer. You couldn't replace your fine clothes today at anything like the prices you've paid for them.

Vicount Ishii And His Fellow Workers Arrive At Tokio

By Ralph Turner

Tokio, Nov. 27.—The Japanese mission to the United States headed by Vicount Ishii returned home today. The members expressed their utmost enthusiasm over their reception in America and declared they were astonished at the magnitude of America's preparations for war. "The magnitude with which America is making preparations for waging war against Germany is literally undreamed of here," Vicount Ishii declared. Ishii praised "the firm determination of the American people who are working in unity making material for the waging of war."

WANTS 18TH TERM AS MAYOR

New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 27.—Probably without a parallel in the whole list of American municipal executives is the record of Charles S. Ashley, who expects to be re-elected as Mayor of New Bedford at the election next month. Mayor Ashley is now serving his eighteenth term as chief executive of New Bedford. The record is all the more remarkable by reason of the fact that it includes half a dozen successful "come-backs." Several times since his first election as mayor in 1890 he has been defeated but has never failed to come back as a successful candidate after a retirement of a year or two. The Mayor is confident that he will be elected for his nineteenth term. He is convinced, he says, that he will be elected for his nineteenth term. He is convinced, he says, that this is not the year when the people are disposed to disturb the existing political situation.

FARM ANIMALS

CHARCOAL OF MUCH BENEFIT

Digestive Apparatus of Hogs Kept In Good Running Order—Make Use of Corn Cobs.

Charcoal is good for hogs. It keeps their digestive apparatus in good running order. Corn cobs make good charcoal when properly charred. On nearly every farm most of the cobs are allowed to collect in around the feed lots until they become a nuisance. Why not gather up these cobs and make charcoal of them for the hogs? It can be done in the following manner:

Dig a pit about 10 feet long, 3 feet wide and 3 or 4 feet deep. A larger hole than this can be made, depending upon the amount of cobs to be burned. With some paper and cobs or kindling start a fire in the center of the pit and as it gets a good start add more cobs. Continue adding cobs until the pit is filled, then lay some old sheet-iron across the top and cover with earth to hold in the fire and smoke. Leave alone for two or three days, then open and if the pit was properly made and filled, the cobs will have turned to charcoal. This can be taken out, sprinkled with salt, lime and copperas and placed where the hogs can get at it.

CARING FOR FARROWING SOW

Exercise Should Be Given and Corn Ration Decreased—Don't Feed Too Rich Ration.

Exercise the sow daily before farrowing. Decrease the corn ration and increase the tunkage rather than the middlings. For 24 hours after farrowing do not feed the sow, or feed lightly. Water should be supplied. Care should be taken not to feed the sow too rich a ration. More milk may be available than the pigs can take, and milk fever may result.

After farrowing, the pigs should be given plenty of exercise, to prevent thumps. Rails about the sides of the pen will keep the sow from lying on the pigs. If colony houses are used, a lighted lantern hung inside on very cold nights will help to keep the houses warm.

BABY BEEF SIRE DESIRABLE

Farmer Cannot Afford to Use Any Other Kind In Strictly Beef-Producing Undertaking.

If you are engaged in beef production and raise your steers use a real "dyed in the wool" baby beef sire to make your business a profitable one. You cannot afford to use any other kind of sire in a strictly beef-producing undertaking.

There are just four breeds of cattle common to America from which real baby beef sires can be selected. These are the Shorthorn, Hereford, Aberdeen Angus and Galloway. The market wants meaty, blocky beeves, and sires of these breeds are the kind that produce this type because beef production has been bred into them for generations past.

The way to get a good baby beef sire is to buy one. Own your own bull if you have ten or more cows. It is the only way to be certain of results. Buy from a reliable breeder, and if possible from a man you know. By all means be sure to buy from a man who maintains a disease-free herd.

The better the sire you use the greater is the improvement which he will produce in your herd. Use one that is better than any other animal in your herd and in buying a new sire always get one better, if possible, than the last.

MINERAL MATTER FOR SWINE

Mixture of Charcoal, Slaked Lime and Small Quantity of Salt Is Desirable in Winter.

During the winter, when the ground is frozen, it is very desirable to provide mineral matter to hogs in the form of a mixture of charcoal, slaked lime and a small quantity of salt. This mixture can be placed in a box where the pigs can eat as much as they want. Soft-coal dust can usually be had at a much lower cost than charcoal, and it seems to answer the purpose quite as well.

Even the great football team of Georgia Tech has been running second to Annapolis in the way of total point scoring for the season.

SCORES OF NIMRODS BETAKE THEMSELVES TO MOUNTAINS

Hundreds of big game hunters from all parts of the county and the surrounding districts are preparing for the annual deer hunt for which the season opens on Saturday, December 1, and continues for two weeks. Some of the advance guards have already left for the various camps to prepare them and get them in readiness for the other members of their parties who will follow later. However, a majority of the hunters will not shoulder their rifles and depart for the wilds until after Thursday, Thanksgiving day. Many of the local hunting parties have erected permanent camps of timber and stone while others erect tents during the deer season. The former are warmer and give better satisfaction.

From reports which have come in from the mountains during the past several weeks many deer have been seen, indicating that the coming season should be a very successful one from the standpoint of the number of deer killed. The Clearfield clubs have heretofore been among the most successful in the county and doubtless they will bag their share of the game this season.

Everything points to a good year for the big game hunters, and all that is needed is a good tracking snow, although about as many deer are killed when there is an absence of snow.

All the old camps are at it as usual while three or four new ones have been erected by local hunters during the summer and fall. The advance guards have already gone out to the following camps: Crystal Springs, Pitch Pine, Carns camp at Stone Run, Jim Carns camp at the head of Tarkill, Panther Rocks, Crooked Run, Schenekk's Cattle Yard camp, Goshen club, Viewpoint.

The Schenck camp is new this year and Mike Condon, W. R. Fargo and ten or a dozen other Clearfield hunters have purchased the Jury lumber camp on Tarkill run, beyond Viewpoint and will have a crew there. The Woodland crew built a new camp this fall at the old Still House on upper Trout run.

WILD CATS ARE PLENTIFUL

A wild cat is a nightly vistor to the Tower at the Summt beyond Osceola, the telegraph operator who keeps nightly vigil feeding the stealthy nocturnal visitor on scraps from his dinner bucket. Wild cats were never so plentiful in this region and these varmints are blamed with being much more destructive of small game than any other agency. It is said that many of the wild turkeys introduced into this county by the State Game Commission and supposed to have fallen prey to foxes have in reality been devoured by wild cats.

Caretaker Al Dunlap, of Kennedy Park Reserve, says that the big gobbler picked off his roosting place on the limb of a big chestnut tree near his quarters one night last week was carried off by a wild cat. The big bird weighed at least twenty-five pounds and no hawk or owl cold take it away, while a fox could not get at it. The turkey was taken from the roost and away without leaving a trace and Dunlap is sure that a wild cat did the trick.

LIVED HIGH ALL SUMMER

The big bear which put in the summer and fall in the region at the head of Stony and Little Montgomery Creeks has not been located thus far, although several crews were out expecting a brush with him since the snow fell, but bruin refuses to show up in his accustomed haunts. The bear has dined all summer long on high priced mutton and is said to have slaughtered no less than fifteen sheep out of a herd pasturing in that region.

LIVING PRICES SOARING

The hunting clubs ran right smack up against the boosted war prices when they went to stock the larder for the deer season. A comparison of last year's and this year's prices show one hundred per cent. increase in some articles, while about everything one eats has at least increased fifty per cent. Then to add insult to injury the "wet goods" has more than kept pace with grocery staples and meats.

BOYS CAN TRAP RABBITS

The new game code carries the first provision ever made especially for boys to catch rabbits, with the express provision of box traps, which may be used by boys under 14 years of age on lands where they reside. For the first time a legislature made a provision for boys to trap "bunnies," and it was the result of legislators who were raised in the country and used to trap rabbits, getting together and deciding to have the state let the youngsters have their fun. There are few game laws in any state which recognize a boy under 14 years old.

High School Still On A Winning Stride

Business Men Succumb To Art Of C. H. S. Bowling Team

The High School defeated the strong Business men's team last night by 101 pins. This completely upset the Business Men's calculations as they expected to win an easy victory. The first game was very exciting, the Business Men winning by five pins. In the second game the C. H. S. team came out ahead by bowling nine pins better than their opponents, giving the High School a narow margin of four pins to start the third game with. This was evidently enough, for the High School started right there and at the end of the third game found themselves 97 pins ahead of the other team. H. Roseberry was high man of the evening with an average of 163, beating R. Roseberry out 8 pins on the totals. The next time the Business Men bowl the C. H. S. they will bring an extra man along so that they can stick him in when they see they are getting beaten. We would also advise any member of the High School team to stay out of Jordan's Cafe as it is hard to tell what he will do to get even.

Some deadly parallels in bowling results. Business en defeat the Professional Men by 24 pins, Professional men defeat the High School by 67 pins, the High School defeat the Business Men by 101 pins.

TWO WEDDING CEREMONIES

Justice Milligan, Clearfield's "marrying Squire," joined two couples in the bonds of wedlock at his office on Market street last evening between five and six o'clock.

The first couple to present themselves were Lloyd Matthews and Marion Luke, both of Curwensville, and the Justice soon performed the ceremony which united them for life.

Martin Mannion and Mrs. Ella Gilparrick, of Spangler, were the other happy couple and the words were soon said which made them man and wife. This was the groom's third experience of the kind and he complimented the Justice at the finish on the ease and dexterity with which he threw the matrimonial noose.

Without the services of "Rabbit" Maranville, who has entered the navy, the Boston Braves will have to go some next season to get anywhere in the pennant race.

SOLDIER'S LETTERS

Camp Lee, Va.,
Nov 18, 1917.

Dear Rev Flegal

This is a beautiful morning and most of the boys are at church The most of this company are Catholics, but religion does not interfere with our aim to clean Kaiser Bill up

We are drilling on the grounds our forefathers died on On one side is old Fort Sheridan and on the other is the old historic battlefield formerly known as the Crater Every time it rains bullets soak out of the ground

When anybody gets a box of eats from home we all gather around his bunk and give three cheers for the mother, sister or sweetheart who sent it before eating

This camp is one of the greatest war machines in the world, to say nothing of the other camps. We have forty-seven thousand men here, and more coming in all the time Everybody seems to like it as there is little or no desertion, and there is no need for the folks back home to worry about us for we are well taken care of and have the most skilled doctors and dentists in the world You would be surprised to know the talent you can find in camp We have anybody from a banker's son to foreigner, all on the same level.

We have good singing every evening and are allowed to leave camp Wednesday and Saturday mornings and all day Sunday There is only one fellow in our company who has been unruly and he has to work in the kitchen for a week We have had one misfortune. A DuBois boy fell in a ditch and broke his shoulder, but received good care and is getting along fine.

Well, I am about run down and as I do not see any chance of getting wound up again soon I will close for this time, with best wishes to all in Grampian.

Ever your brother and friend,

Thanksgiving Is Here

Another year has passed—and with all the changes wrought—Thanksgiving Day again comes round, when we must praise amidst our occupations, and think and offer up thanks for His kindness.

Great changes have taken place within the past twelve months. We have been called upon to face a new life—we have been called upon to defend the sacred name of our country and our beloved ones.

And while we may be compelled to sacrifice those dearest to us we must stand the crucial test and brbave the storm like true Americans, while fervently praying for a speedy and victorious finish.

So let us all set this day aside for meditation and prayer—and in keeping with this spirit, the store will be closed on Thursday November 29th.

And again preparations are busily going on to make this year's Toytown eclipse all those that have gone before. Little elves are busy building its walls and towers—reindeers from the sky come with their burdens filled with heaps of toys and drums and dolls and what-not. And in the midst of it all stands Old Santa Claus himself, chirping out his orders and directing the building of the happiest make-believe city "Toytown."

Saturday, December 1st Is The Opening Day

And what mother will be too busy to gather her little flock about her and pay respect to Mr. Santa; and let the little ones gape with open-mouthed astonishment at his great big display of toys? No—not for all the world would she think of missing this most wonderful sight.

And there are other days, too after this when Toytown's streets will be flocked with the little folks, gay and laughing and reveling in happiness! So be sure to come and—remember—the bigger the family circle the better Santa'll like it.

MAIL STEAMER SUNK

Tokio,, Nov 28—The Pacific mail steamer Thor sailing from Yokohoma to San Francisco has been sunk according to word reaching here today. No details were given.

Camera Lenses Wanted.

The United States signal corps has issued an appeal to the owners of all high-grade cameras. The signal corps needs the lenses of their machines for war work. It is known that the United States bureau of standards has solved the problem of manufacturing high grade optical glass for aircraft camera lenses, but apparently they cannot be produced in quantity fast enough to equip our fleet of airplanes. The United States has always been a great field for amateur photographers and there are a large number of high-grade European-made lenses scattered about the country. These lenses the signal corps wants to buy. Long focus lenses working at large apertures are the only kind which can be used.

Eyes Made of Rubber.

Everybody knows that eyes were made to rubber Very few know that eyes are now being made of rubber This is one of the million results of the war notes a correspondent.

Glass eyes are always more or less uncomfortable and frequently unsightly and it is interesting therefore when the deformities of war are so serious a subject of consideration to learn that two French workers, Mme Lemaitre and Teuillieres have evolved an entirely new method of replacing a lost eye By the use of a combination of a hard and soft rubber substance they have achieved their aim and are producing an eye that looks well and feels well

Revolution Headquarters.

Of all Boston's early taverns none were of more historic interest and none dispensed greater good cheer than the Green Dragon which stood until recent years when it had to be torn down in order that the street might be widened The Green Dragon was called "the headquarters of liberty" by the British because of the way in which the spirit of liberty flourished here and the fact the many meetings held for the purpose of furthering the cause of American independence were held under its roof. Daniel Webster called it "the birthplace of the Revolution"

Spirit of The Day Softens Hearts Of All Nations And Creeds And All Realize Blessings

POEM FROM COLORED MAN

"THANKSGIVING"

By John W. Nipson Jr.,
For all thy loving kindness,
We render thanks to Thee;
Thous doth vouchsafe to feed us—
Thou, God of land and sea.

We thank Thee, yea, we thank Thee,
For each succeeding feast;
For days o'erfilled with gladness,
And for the earth's increase.

Through earth's o'erflowing fullness
Thou showeth us Thy grace;
In fainting hearts give birth to
Fond hope to see Thy face.

On each succeeding morning
We praise Thee thankfully;
And hope to be rejoicing,
Lord, evermore with Thee.

Contributed by distinguished Britishers and Frenchmen in response to the United Press query: "What has the world (or Great Britain or America) to be thankful for at this time?"

The Rt. Hon. Walter H. Long, M. P.
Sec. of State for the Colonies.

"Great Britain and England have to be thankful at this time for the union of the great English-speaking races in the world."

Arthur Henderson, M. P.,
Labor Leader, former member War Cabinet.

"I readily accept your invitation to associate with the American Thanksgiving Day, because since August, 1914, the free democracies of the world have been subjected to their greateest trial; and it is cause for satisfaction that they have stood the test.

The Rt. Rev. A. F. Winnington Ingram, D. D., LLD.,
Bishop of London.

"I have never personally been thankful for anything so much as the entrance of the United States into the war.

"It seemed unthinkable that we should be fighting for the freedom of the world, and not have our brothers by blood fighting at our side. But now we have, and it is a great cause of thanksgiving, that we are now bound to one another in a bond of common self-sacrifice which nothing can ever break.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

"The fact that every branch of the Englishspeaking peoples is now shedding its blood upon a common battlefield with a common end in view is so great an event that it will repay us for all present privation and anxiety.

"If America and the Briitsh Empire had been closer in their councils before the war this situation would never have arisen. If they remain close, it will never arise again."

Arnold Bennett.

"Both America and Great Britain have to be thankful that the idea of democracy is making progress throughout the world. Democracy means disarmament. The instrument of disarmament will be a League of Nations; and we have also to be thankful that in both countries there are powerful men who understand the supreme importance of a League of Nations."

Jean Finot
French Author—Editor La Revue

"One consequence of this war is a new discovery of the United States. The nation, once represented by its detractors as vowed to the cult of the Golden Calf, stands today revealed before God and man as the most meritorious of nations. Behind the ingenious money makers we have detected millions of noble souls led by an admirabl chief, who is, indeed, the just man of the Bible I refer to President Wilson.

Viscount Bryce

"America and Britain have to be thankful that they have both obeyed the voice of Duty which called to come forward in the cause of all mankind to defend the principles of right, the sacredness of international engagements, the dictates of humanity which forbibd cruelty and protect even in time of war innocent non-combatants.

Emile Boutroux.
Celebrabted writer, member French Academy.

WHAT BECOMES OF GOBBLERS ABOUT THIS TIME

Pershing And Sibert Give Real Cause For Thanksgiving Spirit

Gen. Seibert In Statemeut To United Press Assures Us Of Winning The War---Hands Down

American Field Headqaurters, France, Nov. 28.—Not a single American soldier has been lost to date in the transporting of the American army to France.

In a statement written for the United Press as a Thanksgiving message to the American people today Major General Wm. L. Sibert declared that this should be one of the main causes why the American people should return thanks tomorrow.

General Pershing also sends a message "back home" to the American people. The two messages follow:

By Gen. John J. Pershing

First, We may be thankful for the spirit which the great cause has aroused in our nation. Second, That our army in France increases its Third, For the energy and unity of purpose from home which sustains us here and which will send us men and the material to enable us to deliver blows the result of which will cheer us and give us greater cause for thanksgiving again another Thanksgiving day comes around."

By Major Wm. L. Sibert

This little pilgrimage contingent of mine has many things to be thankful for. We are progressing well along the road of training. We are well and our men have had a minimum of illness, but most of all we are thankful for this, that during the great task of transporting our army to France we have not lost a single man—not one casualty. It is very encouraging because we know and our people back home will know that when the full force of the United States army can be transported over here without loss and get into the fight then the allies will win this war—hands down."

MADE SECOND LIEUTENANT

Thomas R. McCracken, son of Postmaster B. W. McCracken, of Mahaffey, now a Second Lieutenant's commission at the Fort Niagara officers training camp just closed.

"It has beben said 'What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world, and loseth his own soul?'

"Evil disposed observers, especially on the other side of the Rhine, thought this saying could be applied to the United States. Did the citizens of the Union, all powerful in material things, still preserve the High idealism of the Pilerim fathers and of the heroes of the War of Indepen-dence?

Defense Scoring In Mrs. DeSaulles Case

Close Friend Testifies She Wanted Him to Accompany Her Night of Murder

By Hugh Baillie

Bianca De Saulles was like a woman walking in her sleep just after she shot her husband John L. De Saulles, Dr. Sherman Wright declared today.

Testimony tending to prove that Mrs. De Saulles did not go to The Box for the purpose of killing her divorced husband was introduced.

Dr. Stewart Iglehart close friend of the accused woman declared she telephoned him to accompany her to The Box to get the boy. Iglehart refused owing to the delicacy of the matter.

Amalia Errazuriz, sister of Mrs. De Saulles declared she remembered a fall Mrs. De Saulles had when a child in Chile. "I was chasing her when she fell. She was in bed delirious for six weeks. She complained of pains in her head, and she was unable to keep up with the other children at play."

Mrs Errazuria also declared that De Saulles shortly after he married Bianca demanded that his mother in law give him a huge estate in Chile and give him full charge of the Errazuria family affairs. She also heard Jack tell his mother that De Saulles had taken him places where drink was sold. Jack acted naughty and said that he was told to act that way in the presence of his mother. Susanne Fontean the French maid who accompanied Mrs. De Saulles to The Box the night of the shooting was the next one called. Miss Monteau said that Mrs. De Saulles fired three times at De Saulles while he was looking at her.

TURKEY FOR ALL OUR SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

Knife And Fork Drill All That Will Be Required In Camps Of France Tomorrow

TONS OF TOOTHSOME TURKEY

By J. W. Pegler
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With the American Expeditionary Army, France, Nov. 28—Thousands of Sammies wil have turkey with all the trimmings tomorow. It will be a holiday with no drill but the knife-and-fork exercise practised on 130,000 pounds of turkey, 1,162,500 pounds of sweet potatoes and 11,000 pounds of mince-meat pies.

The special chow came from home in a special refrigerator-vessel which arrived on November 1.

13,000 quarts of cranberries will be served with the dinner and bushels of oranges, bananas and nuts.

It will be a home Thanksgiving transported to France and set down upon the rough board tables of little farm-houses where the Sammies live.

The quartermaster began arranging the food three months ago. He carefully calculated th size of the force we would have here, arrived at a certain ration for each man and shot in the order to Washington. When the ship came into port a crew of stevedores laid hands on the precious crates and barrels and trundled them to cold storage where the fancy chow remained until few days ago when it became time to start shipments to the scattered camps.

The big feed will be the main item of tomorrow's festivitiese but there will be side attractions to round out the program and make it a day to remember. One unit, for instance, will stage a vaudeville show in the Y. M. C. A. hut to be followed by a slambang battle with the gloves between two muscular mule-skinners.

At Headquarters there will be a Thanksgiving entertainment by the American officers and men for the French.

In a big hall the Sammies planned to entertain the Poilus and their wives and sweethearts. There will be music, but because France has abandoned dancing during the war, the Sammies will not dance.

Robert Bruce Harris Has Had Varied Career

Pioneer Oil Man Guest of His Brother Hon. F. G. Harris

Robert Bruce Harris, of Augusta, Kansas, is the guest of Hon. Frank G. Harris at his home on West Fourth avenue, having arrived in Clearfield on Sunday last. He is three years younger than our townsman and has crowded more dramatic episodes and experiences into his 68 years than falls to the lot of the ordinary man.

Shortly after his parents moved into Clarion county in 1849 Robert Bruce Harris was born. His mother died when he was seven days old and the baby boy was taken and reared by strangers. His foster parents were named Thom and he never met or knew any relatives or that his name was Harris until his brother Frank G. hunted him up in Clarion county when he was 20 years old.

Robert Bruce drifted into the oil regions in the early days of the industry in Pennsylvania and became an expert prospector, driller and operator, following the business in one capacity or another for mone than fifty years.

He has pursued his vocation in almost every European and Eastern country where oil is found, and spent many months in Baku, Russia, on the Caspian sea. He had many thrilling experiences during this wild life with the wild men who frequented the oil fields. He drilled wells throughout the oil regions of Egypt, hundreds of miles from the coast of Africa, where water for the operation had to be carried on backs of camels. He says the toughest place he ever struck was Baku, Russia. The country there was infested with Tartars and it was part of their religion to kill and rob foreigners.

At the present time he is a prosperous operator in the oil fields of Oklahoma and Kansas. Thus far he has traveled life's pathway alone, and accounts for his state of single blessedness with the statement that he was never in one place long enough to investigate the possibilities of a female partner in his trials and tribulations.

He will return to his home in Augusta, Kansas, following his visit with his brother.

THE HOUSE OF MYSTERY LOCATED

It is now said on good authority that the "house of mystery" located up South Second street and about which there has been so much comment is being erected as a home for the Clearfield Nest of Owls. Our informant said he was told that Steward L. J. Beatty and Chairman of the House Committee Schickling was up yesterday measuring the new quarters for carpets and rugs.

BOLSHEVIKI IS IN CONTROL OF PETROGRAD

Nearly Thousand Reported Killed In Peace Demonstrations Held In Moscow And Kieff

FINLAND MUST HAVE HELP

By Joseph Shaplen
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Stockholm, Nov. 28.—Six hundred killed at Kieff and 150 Russian army officers stationed at Moscow were killed in peace demonstration which took place in both cities recently.

The Bolsheviki have now complete control of the city, according to word reaching here from Petrograd brought by a creditable Russian citizen. The fighting at Kieff lasted for six days. It was a veritable reign of terror. American Minister Morris received this word from a traveller today. He declared that the 150 Russian officers perished in heroic defense of Moscow's biggest hotel, and that the furios Bolsheviki mob literally tore the structure to pieces.

Dr. Von Ventz, food administrator of Finland arrived today to hold a conference with the American ambassador. He will implore the ambassador to urge President Wilson to take immediate relief measures toward Finland. Von Ventz declared that unless America rendered immediate aid Finland's people would starve. Morris said that he would immediately make an urgent appeal to the American State Department.

Diplomatic officers today declared that the Bolsheviki forces turned back British and French couriers who were going to the French front with messages. The Bolsheviki refused to recognize their diplomatic credentials and ignored their demands to go to the allied embassies at Pertograd.

NOTE: Jos. Shaplen, formerly a correspondent on the staff of the New York office of the United Press, has been en route to Petrograd for several weeks. He is, like all the other United Press correspondents, an American trained newspaper man who has had much experience with the United Press in various cities in the United States.

Mrs. Wm. Shonewalder Makes Statement

Mrs. William E. Shonewalder called at The Progress office this morning and asked us to print the following statement relative to the conduct of her husbnad in reply to the charges made in the letter from the Secretary of the Committee of Public Safety, regarding Mr. Shonewalder's exemption claim, which was published last evening:

Mrs. Shonewalder says it is true she and her husband has had some of the ups and downs incident to married life and as a result of misunderstanding separated for a time, that they patched up their differences and went to housekeeping in the Newling flats August 11th, and since that time they had been getting along well; they were not evicted by their landlord but when they left the Newling building to move to their present home in the Hoffman flat on West Market street they paid the landlord in full; that during the past month her husband missed but three days work, and two of those days he stayed at home to help his parents butcher and the other day he was sick, and that he earned $64 in two weeks; that they had a neat little home at Hyde before coming to Clearfield and her husband never abused her; also that if it is necessary her husband will go into the army and do his bit.

Hunt up last evening's Progress, get a line on what has been shown and you will be prepared to go to the show tonight and appreciate the two remaining episodes.

Episode III.

Jean Valjean escapes from prison a second time, and learing that Fantine's child Cosette is being kept takes her away with him to Paris. He attempts to live quietly there, but Javert (promoted this time to the police of Paris,) discovers the hiding place and Jean is forced to flee. He takes refuge in the garden of a convent where he finds the old man whose life he once had saved. Fauchelevent shows his gratitude by giving Jean a place as assistant gardener.

Years after Jean is living at ease with Cosette, whom he has adopted as his daughter. Marius, a young aristocrat, living apart from his grandfather, falls in love with Cosette. When the love of the young people for each other becomes evident Marius' wealthy grandfather objects.

Episode IV.

Marius in despair over his grandfather's opposition joins the revolutionary forces of 1832 in the hope that a bullet will end his misery. Believing his death to be near he writes Cosette a hasty note telling her where his body may be found. Jean learning from his of the seriousness of the love affair goes to rescue Marius. He finds that Javert has been trapped by the insurgents and by a subterfuge saves his life. With the wounded Marius upon his back he then escapes through the sewers underground. Caught upon emerging from the sewer by Javert, Jean calmly gives himself up, asking only that he first be allowed to take Marius to the home of his grandfather. Javert by this time convinced of the godlike character of Valjean allows him to escape.

Cosette and Marius are finally united with the blesing of Marius' grandfather. Jean, feeling that his end is near tells Marius the secret of his life and dreaming of the good priest whose influence reformed his character and expires in the arms of his children.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

Thirty members of the Woman's Club met last evening with Mrs. Chas. Kurtz at her home on West Front street. The meeting was unusually interesting and all present felt that they had received much information on the "Paintings of the Italian School," which was the subject for the evening, under the leadership of Mrs. Anna D. Rey.

The Club considered it a rare privilege to listen to Mrs. Rey's talk as no other member of the club is so thoroly versed in art. Mrs. Rey has studied under the best art teachers in Europe and has painted a number of exceptionally fine pictures. Her efforts in making last evening's meeting so successful were greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Rey illustrated her talk with copies and prints of Italian paintings.

Mrs. H. Clark Thayer, President of the club gave a very interesting report of the Federation of Clubs at Erie at which she was a delgeate and Mrs. J. P. O'Laughlin gave a brief sketch of the war under Current Events.

A general discussion then took place on ways to raise money to help the Red Cross and various other charities. The social part of the evening was most enjoyable and all appreciated Mrs. Kurtz's kind hospitality.

Sheriff elect Anthony Gorman, of LaJose, was a business visitor to the Court House, today.

ALL TO GIVE THANKS

The nation will observe Thanksgiving Day tomorrow under conditions radically different from those attending any similar celebration in the past. With the nation at war, it is likely that the true spirit of the day will be more manifested than ever before. The minds of the people will be occupied with thoughts more serious than the enjoyments and festivities with which it has become customary to associate the holiday. A larger attendance than usual is likely to mark the services of thanksgiving in the churches throughout the land. The family reunion will be something more than a mere festal gathering, as the vacant chair at the dinner table reminds those present of the loved ones who will pass the holiday in camp or cantonment, in the trenches on European battlefield, or on some grim warship flying the Stars and Stripes.

It will be a sad holiday, however, for the boys in the service. Reports from the military camps and the naval stations in all sections of the country tell of the elaborate preparations for celebrating the day. Thousands of the soldiers and sailors in training have been given leave to return to their homes for the holiday. Those who are too far distant from home to make this trip will have an enjoyable time of it in camp or barracks, on ship or ashore. Each and every one of them is assured of a turkey dinner with all the "trimmings."

OUR LOANS TO OTHER NATIONS

The United States has loaned to other nations engaged in war with Germany something over three billion dollars, taking for the sums advanced the obligations of such nations, bearing the same interest and maturing at the same time as the Liberty Loan Bonds.

The wisdom of this policy is beyond question. By strengthening these nations and making them as powerful and as effective as possible we are greatly aiding in the shortening of the struggle, we are doing much to insure an ultimate victory: we are doing only that which it is our duty to do toward our allies in this tremendous war against an autocracy which would debase and enslave all nations and men.

The fact that if we did not advance this money much of the work which the allies are doing would have to be done with American money and American men establishes clearly the intelligence and wisdom of our policy.

There is work to be done which requires the expenditure of blood and treasure. In making these money advances to Great Britain, France, Italy, and other nations we are lending money, which will be returned to us, instead of expending sums possibly as great, possibly greater, with no hope of return. In addition, we are saving the lives of American soldiers.

No policy the American Government has pursued is wiser or more truly economical and patriotic.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney trouble and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Clearfield people.

Mrs. Mary C. [illegible], 128 [illegible] Front street, Clearfield, [illegible] have suffered off and on for a good many years with kidney trouble. When one of these attacks has come on, my back has been lame and sore and I have had dull, bearing-down pains across my kidneys and in my bladder. My kidneys have acted too frequently and I have had nervous spells. I have bought Doan's Kidney Pills at three times from Stewart's Drug Store. They have always eased the pains through my back and head, regulated the action of my kidneys and removed the nervous and dizzy spells."

is because The Country Gentleman is all wrapped up in them.

The Country Gentleman is their weekly paper—and the weekly paper of other farm families all over the country. They exchange experiences in it. They get ideas from it—about sowing, reaping, livestock, dairying, fruit growing, machinery, building, chickens, cooking, sewing. They tell each other how to get more out of life on the farm, without putting so much everlasting toil into it.

Then The Country Gentleman always has special writers studying important agricultural subjects and new farm movements, and telling all about them. There are stories—live, fascinating ones. And a regular weekly section of beautiful, newsy pictures printed by the intaglio process.

You can get all wrapped up in The Country Gentleman—can have it every single week for a whole year—for $1.00.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE
by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

COW'S PRIDE.

"It's perfectly delightful," said Mrs. Cow. "Yes, it is really very fine."

Mrs. Cow was talking to Mrs. Black and White Cow. To be sure they were both cows, but Mrs. Cow was always known by just her simple name, and Mrs. Black and White Cow was always called Mrs. Black and White.

Mrs. Cow was brown with a few white patches. She told someone when she was a little calf that she had never had a whole brown dress because her mother hadn't been able to afford to give her one, and she had had to patch it up with white.

All the creatures of the barnyard liked this story, and they also admired Mrs. Cow for telling it. "It's so much better," Mrs. Duck had said, "than to boast as if you could have everything under the sun. And our clothes aren't so important as our dispositions."

So now that Mrs. Cow had something special to say, Mrs. Black and White stopped chewing for a moment and looked at Mrs. Cow.

"I would love to hear it," said Mrs. Black and White. "What is so delightful and fine? It won't excite me to hear it, I trust, for I hate to become excited."

"It certainly won't excite you," said Mrs. Cow. "That is I am pretty sure it won't, for it didn't excite me. It just made me very happy and pleased. I do not like to become excited any more than you do, my dear. I enjoy chewing and taking my time over everything. I never look excited, do I?"

"No," said Mrs. Black and White. "You always look as if you were calm. But then that is the way a cow should be. We should never hurry. We are not meant to for none of our family have ever hurried. We've always enjoyed taking our time and eating and munching. Now and again we look up at people as they pass by but we look at everything calm.

"That is so," said Mrs. Cow. "But sometimes I think we have grown a bit lazy."

"Oh, don't say so," said Mrs. Black and White. "Laziness is the very joy of my life. Never to move quickly, never to eat quickly, never to grow excited—those are the joys of cow life."

"That's so," said Mrs. Cow. "I really meant that I sometimes think people do not appreciate cows enough. They are so used to seeing us move so slowly that they think we aren't worth much. They rather like the creatures who hurry and bustle even if they never get anywhere."

"It's strange that they can admire hurrying," said Mrs. Black and White, chewing slowly all the time.

"They should realize that we do all the work that is expected of us and we do it well," continued Mrs. Cow.

"Now Let Me Look Up About Cows in My Book."

"Isn't that enough?" asked Mrs. Black and White.

"It should be," said Mrs. Cow. "And I think that if ever they would stop hurrying and have a nice long time thinking about cows they would come to the conclusion that we were very useful and that we were a great addition to the world.

"And I do think now they are beginning to appreciate us a little more. That is what I have to tell you. They are beginning to think farming is a fine thing and that cows and chickens, ducks and geese, should be studied.

"What makes me extremely happy is that I saw a friend of the farmer the other day. The farmer was talking about his fine animals and he said, pointing to me:

"'There's a fine cow over there.' And what do you suppose the friend did?"

"I can't imagine," said Mrs. Black and White. Cows haven't a great deal of imagination you know!

"He said: 'Now let me look up about cows in my book.' I saw his book. It was on farming and on the outside of the book was my picture—yes, a picture of a brown cow with white spots. Just think, a cow on a book and all about the cow family in the book—for he said so."

"It's splendid," said Mrs. Black and White. "We are appreciated after all. And I'm honored to know you, Mrs. Cow, for you've gone on a book."

"I haven't gone on it myself," said Mrs. Cow. "It's my picture. But that is enough of an honor." And Mrs. Black and White agreed.

How to get more wear from fine waists and lingerie

IN these days of war prices, it's a necessary, yet simple, economy to make dainty fabrics wear longer. You couldn't replace your fine clothes today at anything like the prices you've paid for them.

All clothes—and especially fine fabrics—wear much longer when washed with Fels-Naptha. Because Fels-Naptha makes unnecessary the use of boiling water—so destructive to delicate fabrics.

More, it almost entirely does away with the rubbing that does more to wear out clothes than actual wear on the street.

Vicount Ishii And His Fellow Workers Arrive At Tokio

By Ralph Turner

Tokio, Nov. 27.—The Japanese mission to the United States headed by Vicount Ishii returned home today. The members expressed their utmost enthusiasm over their reception in America and declared they were astonished at the magnitude of America's preparations for war. "The magnitude with which America is making preparations for waging war against Germany is literally undreamed of here," Vicount Ishii declared. Ishii praised "the firm determination of the American people who are working in unity making material for the waging of war."

WANTS 18TH TERM AS MAYOR

New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 27.—Probably without a parallel in the whole list of American municipal executives is the record of Charles S. Ashley, who expects to be re-elected as Mayor of New Bedford at the election next month. Mayor Ashley is now serving his eighteenth term as chief executive of New Bedford. The record is all the more remarkable by reason of the fact that it includes half a dozen successful "come-backs." Several times since his first election as mayor in 1890 he has been defeated but has never failed to come back as a successful candidate after a retirement of a year or two. The Mayor is confident that he will be elected for his nineteenth term. He is convinced, he says, that he will be elected for his nineteenth term. He is convinced, he says, that this is not the year when the people are disposed to disturb the existing political situation.

The students get Thursday and Friday off for their Thanksgiving vacation.

FARM ANIMALS

CHARCOAL OF MUCH BENEFIT

Digestive Apparatus of Hogs Kept In Good Running Order—Make Use of Corn Cobs.

Charcoal is good for hogs. It keeps their digestive apparatus in good running order. Corn cobs make good charcoal when properly charred. On nearly every farm most of the cobs are allowed to collect in around the feed lots until they become a nuisance. Why not gather up these cobs and make charcoal of them for the hogs? It can be done in the following manner:

Dig a pit about 10 feet long, 3 feet wide and 3 or 4 feet deep. A larger hole than this can be made, depending upon the amount of cobs to be burned. With some paper and cobs or kindling start a fire in the center of the pit and as it gets a good start add more cobs. Continue adding cobs until the pit is filled, then lay some old sheet-iron across the top and cover with earth to hold in the fire and smoke. Leave alone for two or three days, then open and if the pit was properly made and filled, the cobs will have turned to charcoal. This can be taken out, sprinkled with salt, lime and copperas and placed where the hogs can get at it.

CARING FOR FARROWING SOW

Exercise Should Be Given and Corn Ration Decreased—Don't Feed Too Rich Ration.

Exercise the sow daily before farrowing. Decrease the corn ration and increase the tunkage rather than the middlings. For 24 hours after farrowing do not feed the sow, or feed lightly. Water should be supplied. Care should be taken not to feed the sow too rich a ration. More milk may be available than the pigs can take, and milk fever may result.

After farrowing, the pigs should be given plenty of exercise, to prevent thumps. Rails about the sides of the pen will keep the sow from lying on the pigs. If colony houses are used, a lighted lantern hung inside on very cold nights will help to keep the houses warm.

BABY BEEF SIRE DESIRABLE

Farmer Cannot Afford to Use Any Other Kind In Strictly Beef-Producing Undertaking.

If you are engaged in beef production and raise your steers use a real "dyed in the wool" baby beef sire to make your business a profitable one. You cannot afford to use any other kind of sire in a strictly beef-producing undertaking.

There are just four breeds of cattle common to America from which real baby beef sires can be selected. These are the Shorthorn, Hereford, Aberdeen Angus and Galloway. The market wants meaty, blocky beeves, and sires of these breeds are the kind that produce this type because beef production has been bred into them for generations past.

The way to get a good baby beef sire is to buy one. Own your own bull if you have ten or more cows. It is the only way to be certain of results. Buy from a reliable breeder, and if possible from a man you know. By all means be sure to buy from a man who maintains a disease-free herd.

The better the sire you use the greater is the improvement which he will produce in your herd. Use one that is better than any other animal in your herd and in buying a new sire always get one better, if possible, than the last.

MINERAL MATTER FOR SWINE

Mixture of Charcoal, Slaked Lime and Small Quantity of Salt Is Desirable in Winter.

During the winter, when the ground is frozen, it is very desirable to provide mineral matter to hogs in the form of a mixture of charcoal, slaked lime and a small quantity of salt. This mixture can be placed in a box where the pigs can eat as much as they want. Soft-coal dust can usually be had at a much lower cost than charcoal, and it seems to answer the purpose quite as well.

Even the great football team of Georgia Tech has been running second to Annapolis in the way of total point scoring for the season.

NEWS OF THE CAMPS

SCORES OF NIMRODS BETAKE THEMSELVES TO MOUNTAINS

Hundreds of big game hunters from all parts of the county and the surrounding districts are preparing for the annual deer hunt for which the season opens on Saturday, December 1, and continues for two weeks. Some of the advance guards have already left for the various camps to prepare them and get them in readiness for the other members of their parties who will follow later. However, a majority of the hunters will not shoulder their rifles and depart for the wilds until after Thursday, Thanksgiving day. Many of the local hunting parties have erected permanent camps of timber and stone while others erect tents during the deer season. The former are warmer and give better satisfaction.

From reports which have come in from the mountains during the past several weeks many deer have been seen, indicating that the coming season should be a very successful one from the standpoint of the number of deer killed. The Clearfield clubs have heretofore been among the most successful in the county and doubtless they will bag their share of the game this season.

Everything points to a good year for the big game hunters, and all that is needed is a good tracking snow, although about as many deer are killed when there is an absence of snow.

All the old camps are at it as usual while three or four new ones have been erected by local hunters during the summer and fall. The advance guards have already gone out to the following camps: Crystal Springs, Pitch Pine, Carns camp at Stone Run, Jim Carns camp at the head of Tarkill, Panther Rocks, Crooked Run, Schenekk's Cattle Yard camp, Goshen club, Viewpoint.

The Schenck camp is new this year and Mike Condon, W. R. Fargo and ten or a dozen other Clearfield hunters have purchased the Jury lumber camp on Tarkill run, beyond Viewpoint and will have a crew there. The Woodland crew built a new camp this fall at the old Still House on upper Trout run.

WILD CATS ARE PLENTIFUL

A wild cat is a nightly visitor to the Tower at the Summt beyond Osceola, the telegraph operator who keeps nightly vigil feeding the stealthy nocturnal visitor on scraps from his dinner bucket. Wild cats were never so plentiful in this region and these varmints are blamed with being much more destructive of small game than any other agency. It is said that many of the wild turkeys introduced into this county by the State Game Commission and supposed to have fallen prey to foxes have in reality been devoured by wild cats.

Caretaker Al Dunlap, of Kennedy Park Reserve, says that the big gobbler picked off his roosting place on the limb of a big chestnut tree near his quarters one night last week was carried off by a wild cat. The big bird weighed at least twenty-five pounds and no hawk or owl cold take it away, while a fox could not get at it. The turkey was taken from the roost and away without leaving a trace and Dunlap is sure that a wild cat did the trick.

LIVED HIGH ALL SUMMER

The big bear which put in the summer and fall in the region at the head of Stony and Little Montgomery Creeks has not been located thus far, although several crews were out expecting a brush with him since the snow fell, but bruin refuses to show up in his accustomed haunts. The bear has dined all summer long on high priced mutton and is said to have slaughtered no less than fifteen sheep out of a herd pasturing in that region.

LIVING PRICES SOARING

The hunting clubs ran right smack up against the boosted war prices when they went to stock the larder for the deer season. A comparison of last year's and this year's prices show one hundred per cent. increase in some articles, while about everything one eats has at least increased fifty per cent. Then to add insult to injury the "wet goods" has more than kept pace with grocery staples and meats.

BOYS CAN TRAP RABBITS

The new game code carries the first provision ever made especially for boys to catch rabbits, with the express provision of box traps, which may be used by boys under 14 years of age on lands where they reside. For the first time a legislature made a provision for boys to trap "bunnies," and it was the result of legislators who were raised in the country and used to trap rabbits, getting together and deciding to have the state let the youngsters have their fun. There are few game laws in any state which recognize a boy under 14 years old.

High School Still On A Winning Stride

Business Men Succumb To Art Of C. H. S. Bowling Team

The High School defeated the strong Business men's team last night by 101 pins. This completely upset the Business Men's calculations as they expected to win an easy victory. The first game was very exciting, the Business Men winning by five pins. In the second game the C. H. S. team came out ahead by bowling nine pins better than their opponents, giving the High School a narow margin of four pins to start the third game with. This was evidently enough, for the High School started right there and at the end of the third game found themselves 97 pins ahead of the other team. H. Roseberry was high man of the evening with an average of 163, beating R. Roseberry out 8 pins on the totals. The next time the Business Men bowl the C. H. S. they will bring an extra man along so that they can stick him in when they see they are getting beaten. We would also advise any member of the High School team to stay out of Jordan's Cafe as it is hard to tell what he will do to get even.

Some deadly parallels in bowling results. Business en defeat the Professional Men by 24 pins, Professional men defeat the High School by 67 pins, the High School defeat the Business Men by 101 pins.

The score:

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Change of Fare on Town Jitney

I find that in order to justify me in operating the Town Jitney under present conditions it will be necessary for me to ask just a little more fare from each passenger, and knowing as you do the necessity for such a move am satisfied that you will be willing to share a little of my added expense with me.

Below you will find a schedule of rules and regulations for the governing of the Town Jitney service after December 9, 1917:

Single fares, 7 cents; double fare, 15 cents; three fares, 20 cents; four fares, 30 cents; five fares, 35 cents.

All passengers will be required to make their own change and have fare or ticket ready to drop in slot when entering car.

No penny change will be made by jitney driver and if patron does not have a nickel and two pennies he will have to drop a dime in the slot. All pieces of money from 25 cents up will be changed for patrons by driver on demand.

I will offer Cut Rate Ticket books one containing 8 tickets for 50 cents, and one containing 16 tickets for $1.

On entering jitney patron will be required to tear tickets off single before dropping in slot, and when more than one fare is paid with tickets you will be required to name number of fares to driver and show tickets before dropping them.

This advance is absolutely necessary if we would continue our service, and we ask your consideration and co-operation in the change.

TWO WEDDING CEREMONIES

Justice Milligan, Clearfield's "marrying Squire," joined two couples in the bonds of wedlock at his office on Market street last evening between five and six o'clock.

The first couple to present themselves were Lloyd Matthews and Marion Luke, both of Curwensville, and the Justice soon performed the ceremony which united them for life.

Martin Mannion and Mrs. Ella Gilparrick, of Spangler, were the other happy couple and the words were soon said which made them man and wife. This was the groom's third experience of the kind and he complimented the Justice at the finish on the ease and dexterity with which he threw the matrimonial noose.

Dear Rev Flegal

This is a beautiful morning and most of the boys are at church The most of this company are Catholics, but religion does not interfere with our aim to clean Kaiser Bill up

We are drilling on the grounds our forefathers died on On one side is old Fort Sheridan and on the other is the old historic battlefield formerly known as the Crater Every time it rains bullets soak out of the ground

When anybody gets a box of eats from home we all gather around his bunk and give three cheers for the mother, sister or sweetheart who sent it before eating

This camp is one of the greatest war machines in the world, to say nothing of the other camps. We have forty-seven thousand men here, and more coming in all the time Everybody seems to like it as there is little or no desertion, and there is no need for the folks back home to worry about us for we are well taken care of and have the most skilled doctors and dentists in the world You would be surprised to know the talent you can find in camp We have anybody from a banker's son to foreigner, all on the same level.

We have good singing every evening and are allowed to leave camp Wednesday and Saturday mornings and all day Sunday There is only one fellow in our company who has been unruly and he has to work in the kitchen for a week We have had one misfortune. A DuBois boy fell in a ditch and broke his shoulder, but received good care and is getting along fine.

Well, I am about run down and as I do not see any chance of getting wound up again soon I will close for this time, with best wishes to all in Grampian.

Ever your brother and friend,
PRIV. F. D FREEMAN,

Thanksgiving Is Here

Another year has passed—and with all the changes wrought—Thanksgiving Day again comes round, when we must praise amidst our occupations, and think and offer up thanks for His kindness.

Great changes have taken place within the past twelve months. We have been called upon to face a new life—we have been called upon to defend the sacred name of our country and our beloved ones.

And while we may be compelled to sacrifice those dearest to us we must stand the crucial test and brbave the storm like true Americans, while fervently praying for a speedy and victorious finish.

So let us all set this day aside for meditation and prayer—and in keeping with this spirit, the store will be closed on Thursday November 29th.

And again preparations are busily going on to make this year's Toytown eclipse all those that have gone before. Little elves are busy building its walls and towers—reindeers from the sky come with their burdens filled with heaps of toys and drums and dolls and what-not. And in the midst of it all stands Old Santa Claus himself, chirping out his orders and directing the building of the happiest make-believe city "Toytown."

Saturday, December 1st Is The Opening Day

And what mother will be too busy to gather her little flock about her and pay respect to Mr. Santa; and let the little ones gape with open-mouthed astonishment at his great big display of toys? No—not for all the world would she think of missing this most wonderful sight.

And there are other days, too after this when Toytown's streets will be flocked with the little folks, gay and laughing and reveling in happiness! So be sure to come and—remember—the bigger the family circle the better Santa'll like it.

Camera Lenses Wanted.

The United States signal corps has issued an appeal to the owners of all high-grade cameras. The signal corps needs the lenses of their machines for war work. It is known that the United States bureau of standards has solved the problem of manufacturing high grade optical glass for aircraft camera lenses, but apparently they cannot be produced in quantity fast enough to equip our fleet of airplanes. The United States has always been a great field for amateur photographers and there are a large number of high-grade European-made lenses scattered about the country. These lenses the signal corps wants to buy. Long focus lenses working at large apertures are the only kind which can be used.

Eyes Made of Rubber.

Everybody knows that eyes were made to rubber Very few know that eyes are now being made of rubber This is one of the million results of the war notes a correspondent.

Glass eyes are always more or less uncomfortable and frequently unsightly and it is interesting therefore when the deformities of war are so serious a subject of consideration to learn that two French workers, Mme Lemaitre and Teuillieres have evolved an entirely new method of replacing a lost eye By the use of a combination of a hard and soft rubber substance they have achieved their aim and are producing an eye that looks well and feels well

Revolution Headquarters.

Of all Boston's early taverns none were of more historic interest and none dispensed greater good cheer than the Green Dragon which stood until recent years when it had to be torn down in order that the street might be widened The Green Dragon was called "the headquarters of liberty" by the British because of the way in which the spirit of liberty flourished here and the fact the many meetings held for the purpose of furthering the cause of American independence were held under its roof. Daniel Webster called it "the birthplace of the Revolution"
